PREPARE FOR DECORATION DAY

Grand Army Post Has Selected the Orator of the Day

A meeting of George W. De Long Post, Grand Army of the Republic, will be held this evening to complete details for the observance by the post of Decoration Day, which falls on Monday next. The post has appointed a special committee to arrange a program. It has been decided to shorten the usual program and to have only the usual oration, the Gettysburg address, the Grand Army ritual and the three volleys fired over the graves of departed comrades.

A. C. McKeever, pastor of the Christian Church, has been selected to deliver the oration. The post will also ask various military organizations to participate in the parade.

BOTTLE OF CARBOLIC ACID AND TWO JAGS

After going to sleep with a bottle of carbolic acid, which in drunken delirium he thought was his best beloved, a carpenter diving in the "White-house," on Fort street, between Kukui and Beretania, woke up several days ago. He has not been asleep again yet.

This man and a friend got drunk on Saturday night, and the carpenter secured a bottle of carbolic acid. What he wanted with it or what he was going to do with it is unknown, unless he intended to cool his throat and ease the effects of the dago red he had been drinking all evening.

When he arrived at home he neglected to divest himself of his clothes and toppled over backwards on the bed. He would have gone to sleep, but the bottle was in his back pocket and it broke.

His companion did not discover his friend's misfortune until the next morning, when he became so sympathetic that he went out and got soaked again. It was not until yesterday afternoon that he became sobered up enough to secure aid for the burnt man, and finally suggested down to the police station.

He told his woes to Jarrett and McDuffie, who informed him that they had nothing to do with the case, whereupon they were severely upbraided.

At the dispensary City Physician Mackall listened somewhat sympathetically to a plea of great emergency. As soon as he had time the doctor went up to the place, where he found the carpenter with most of the skin burnt off his back, but recovering, notwithstanding his friend's overexpressed sympathy.

WOULD EMULATE THE LONDON SUFFRAGETTES

The community has nothing further to fear from Vasiloff and his three compatriots now residing with Makino and his three compatriots in jail. They have been proven not to have the courage of their convictions.

Saturday night Mr. Marche-Dunbrowsky, Russian interpreter, came around to Chief McDuffie, not exactly steady in his gait and uttered these significant words:

"Monday you will bury them."

The chief, interested in the details of this impending occupation, inquired as to who would figure as principal in the ceremony.

"The Russians," replied the board of health interpreter.

"What Russians?"

"The Russians in jail. They will not eat themselves to death from next Monday if they are not released."

Further inquiries elicited the information that Vasiloff, Sanerbieve, Surapove and Biloff had decided to starve themselves to death, commencing yesterday, if they were not discharged at once from durance vile.

Consequently they were watched with a great deal of anxiety yesterday but the only calamity was another order on the cook for more grub, they becoming particularly hungry suddenly.

SAFE.

"Hello, Billie," said the freshman to a classmate, who was whistling blithely as he walked along. "Whistler away!"

"I'm going up to Doctor Cartwright's to be examined for appendicitis," said the other.

"Greenland! You don't seem to be very much worried about it," said the first.

"No, no," smiled Billie. "There won't be anything doing. I've never been able to pass an examination the first time in all my fair young life."
